President's Message

FAIR Plan - For Who?

As many of you have heard the F.A.I.R. plan in Monroe County has been a source of controversy. The plan calls for a 50 percent reduction in sales tax revenue to school districts to pay for the county's portion of the state Medicaid bill. It was passed without public debate and will leave school districts with budgetary problems that may result in the cutting of programs and staff layoffs. NYSUT, along with the Wayne Central School District, and many other Monroe County school districts and organizations are currently engaging in a lawsuit against Monroe County.

While the F.A.I.R plan and the lawsuit will have a limited impact on Wayne Central, there is already a buzz that the Wayne County government may look to cut the sales tax revenues that it shares with Wayne County school districts. This situation is being closely monitored, and if necessary you may be called on for support. The Wayne County Government previously attempted to cut the sharing of sales tax revenues a few years ago, but thanks to the lobbying efforts of NYSUT, NEA-NY, and many other Wayne County educational organizations it was blocked.

A Winter Freeze on the 403b.

For those of you, who participate in a 403b retirement annuity, you should have received a letter in the mail from the district office regarding a "Temporary Freeze" on 403b account transfers and exchanges. This freeze is expected to be lifted around January 2008 depending on upcoming IRS law changes.

For the most part this freeze should have no impact on your 403b annuity. The freeze would only affect you if you were planning on switching to a different 403b provider. For example if I wanted to switch my annuity and financial advisor from the vendor Ameriprise to the vendor Vanguard, I would have to wait for the freeze to be lifted. However, I am free to move my money in my Ameriprise account to any bond, fund, or stock I want as long as I keep Ameriprise as my 403b vendor.

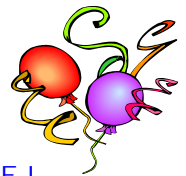

It is recommended that you contact your personal financial advisor if you have questions regarding your 403b account.

Have a great Thanksgiving and enjoy the extended weekend,

Sincerely,

Jason Carter

NYSUT moves 2009 convention from Rochester !

Breaking News today from NYSUT Media Relations :

ALBANY, N.Y. November 19, 2007 -- In response to management's continuing campaign to deny Crowne Plaza hotel workers their right to join a union, New York State United Teachers said today it will move its 2009 convention from Rochester to Buffalo.

The 585,000-member union had planned to bring its Representative Assembly to the Rochester Riverside Convention Center from April 1-4, 2009. The policy-making convention, which brings some 2,500 delegates to a host city and books about 4,500 "room nights" in downtown hotels, has a projected economic impact - including meals and other spending - of at least $5 million. That was the estimated impact on Rochester when the city hosted NYSUT's 2006 convention.

However, NYSUT President Richard C. Iannuzzi said the anti-union campaign by Crowne Plaza management in Rochester against UNITE HERE's organizing effort impelled NYSUT to relocate its 2009 convention - a decision that had to be made now because of the scope and complexity of the event. While NYSUT had hoped the labor dispute would be resolved by now, the need to firm up plans for the union's three-day convention meant NYSUT had to act. The union has booked the 2009 event into the Buffalo Convention Center on the same dates.

"We had been looking forward to having another wonderful convention in Rochester, which has been a great city for us in the past," Iannuzzi said. "But it's important for us to stand with the Rochester labor community against the unfair campaign waged against workers' efforts to organize at the Crowne Plaza. Our leaders and members in Rochester understand and respect this decision."
